

Dr. Hariom Agarwal

b. March 15, 1961

Dr. Hariom Agarwal (1961) is a leading Indian entrepreneur and educationist. He has a sharp vision and mission, too, to nurture the students with best education system and knowledge enhancing techniques with the inputs of professional, ethical and sustainable growth of the society. Dr. Hariom Agarwal is the founder of J. P. Group of Institutions. It is a leading educational group of North India established in Meerut District of West Uttar Pradesh.

Thus, Initiating with the aim to provide the best education system and Knowledge to every needful, Dr. Hariom Agarwal thought to set up the robust educational system. First, he started J.P. Academy, a school, in 1995. The school enriched the school going children with moral values and ethics along with their education in order to empower the nation. After the successful achievement of the aim through J.P. Academy, Dr. Hariom Agarwal started the college of Hotel Management in 1998. The Hotel Management College was a big success owing to its distinct methodology and pedagogy. But, He always has been curious about the good teachers and the teaching pedagogy. He ever opined, "Teaching is the noble profession to spread the knowledge & making the Country robust in every field of the life." Keeping in mind these basic issues, B.Ed. College was setup in 2000 to produce good teachers for benefiting the student and the society as well. Subsequently, in year 2003 he added the college of BBA and BCA to give better choices to the young minds. In 2007, an engineering college with the courses of B. Tech., MBA and MCA was started. Nonetheless, College for Polytechnic Education was also in 2010. As the society grew and new technology entered in the social scope, Dr. Hariom Agarwal planned to develop a formal education of animation sciences. Thus, in 2013 the School for Animation was developed and started. Still many more projects are further in pipeline to enhance the education paradigm. All these colleges and schools combined form J.P. Group of Institutions. It has around 7000 Students & more than 800 faculty members and staff with rich experience in their respective fields. In year 2015 and 2016, J. P. Group of Institutions was awarded CSR National Award (Excellence in Education).

Dr. Hariom Agarwal, a man of mettle & endurance, has been the instrument for every project & the best part is that every college is working in a unique way due to his positive attitude and the faith in faculty & staff. He believes that the Teacher is the only person who can improve the future of any country. It is very rare to find the person, who is running the education system, also has an excellent academic track record. Dr. Hariom Agarwal, himself, is really a true academician that is why he has a very good understanding about the education system.

Dr. Hariom Agarwal was born on 15th March 1961 in Meerut. His father, Sh. J. P. Agarwal has been a renowned real estate developer for last 60 years with a vast establishment of real estate business. His father is a man of principle, a nature lover and a benevolent person. Dr. Hariom Agarwal completed his High school in 1976, Intermediate in 1978, B. Com. in 1980. After graduation he secured his MBA degree in 1982, B. Ed. in 2001 and DHM in 2004. But, his thirst for education can not be quenched; he, then, started his research and secured the Ph.D. degree in 2010.

Dr. Hariom Agarwal is a recipient of International Gold Star Millennium Award (2013). In the same year, he was also awarded by Indo Global Education Summit (Award for Research Excellence), Indo Global Education Summit (Award for Eminent Educationists) and the winner of Mind Benders. In 2015, he was also awarded Rajiv Gandhi Education Excellence Award. Further in 2016, he was also awarded by Worldwide Achievers (Asia Education Summit & Award).

God has been very kind for Dr. Hariom Agarwal to bless him with his better half Smt. Sangeeta Agarwal. She is a very kind, generous, pious & farsighted lady who also supports Dr. Hariom Agarwal in all educational institutes. She has ever talked women issues loudly. Her motherly behavior has ever fascinated the young female teachers and the girls students. She always stress upon women education, too. Dr. Hariom Agarwal is gifted three children, namely, Dr. Annie Agarwal (M.D. Radiology) who is a generous and submissive doctor. Dr. Annie Agarwal is also planning on her dream project in the form of J.P. Super-especiality hospital to provide help to poor people in near vicinity. Anurag Agarwal is a C.S, L.L.B. & MBA (London). He is the Secretary of J. P. Group. The younger one, Vishal Agarwal is a B.Com. & MBA (London). He is Joint Secretary of J. P. Group.

It is indeed inspirational to note that J.P. group has excelled prominent institutions even under such a rigorous process for both professional and ethical education. In fast changing education field, the Group keeps on striving to prepare students to differentiate themselves from others. Year after year, J. P. group has proved its competence by winning awards for its contribution to the field of education. The growing success of J. P. students in the corporate world is also another area of success. JP group also inspires the students who excels in academics through scholarships. Scholarship programs benefit and motivate students to earn a degree based on their merit or talent in need. People who can't afford to cover their expenses completely but have a desire to excel with their effort and talent, scholarship helps them to achieve it. Topper of each branch is awarded in every semester.

Every owner has an aspiration to think about the future of his dreams. Also our ancestors said that dreams should be big to achieve. He is the supporter of social, ethical and moral values. He is now planning to establish an international university devoted to the preservation and propagation of the forgotten Vedic Culture and the spiritual principles to enlighten individuals. This university will have a focus of providing a confluence of professional education with instillation of spiritual values in the students. Dr. Hariom Agarwal is also planning an international Public School for girls in NCR. For this purpose, we are committed towards research projects and incubation set up in Institutions of JP group. His aim is to develop innovative research capabilities and a professional approach to lead people and to use technology for the development of mankind towards the sustainable development.

Dr. Hariom Agarwal has a deep passion for his work. Since childhood, he has a long lasting inclination towards establishing educational set-up than his family real estate business. In spite of this fact, he is a very calm and down to earth person. He practices Yoga in the morning and this gives him the power to think confidently. He thanks his family for all the support and love they gave him all through his life. He always dreams big, but executes each step very slowly and efficiently. He trusts his work and this is the reason for all his success in his life. The main mantra of his life is to take risks and to stay mentally alert. He presents to be a torch bearer for the young Academicians and potential entrepreneurs of India.
